THE PIOCHE WEEKLY RECORD.

Prospectus & Promotion

OF THE

Silver King Gr up of Mines. BY Company.

Mines located in Lincoln Co.

Nevada.

Such is the heading of a pamphlet received at this office, and as it contains much information (?) about how to find mines and the manner in which they are traced, that is entirely new to the average miner, we publish it. The prospectus was written by an Eastern Mining Expert who experted the Silver King Group of mines last year. He starts off as follows:

We will now give a little history as to how these and other mines are found and located. You first look for float. Float is weather beaten particles broken off the ledges that 10 ton of coke or charcoal $17, have gradually worked their way down the mountain, sometimes as far 6 men at furnace at $3.50 per as the base, and as soon as you have day located the vein, as best as you can by float, then you take up the trace. The trace is the gold that has been washed out of the ledges and float, then you takes bits of soil as far out as you think the (gold) trace runs and then you go down the mountains and pan it out and of course you pan each and every one separ- Contigent expenses ately to find out how wide thetrace is (A gold pan is as large around as a small dishpau; but not over one fourth as deep, made of steel.) Then put these bits of soil separately in the pan and by a swinging motion of the water they separate the soil from the gold. The soil is gradually washed over the edge of the pan. The next time you go higher the trace grows more narrow, and the higher you go the more narrow the traces are and when it gets four or five feet wide you are liable to get above it, and when you do of course you will not get any gold so you will know you are close to the ledge and you will go to digging. Forty colors

The soil runs from no soil at all to ten feet deep. The Rocky Mountaies have no soil at all. Prospectors have to prospect by drilling and but this is Nevada mining. So you hunt and you dig until you find your ledge and then you will have to do $15.00 worth of work that is dig a shaft ten feet deep and show up walls and ledge bearing gold, silver, or any metal that will pay. This ore lies between these walls. The walls are of a different kind of rock on either side the ledge.

The mine I owned an interest in, in Jackson county, Oregon, the walls were porphyry and slate and just so with all mines, they have all kinds of walls. The walls have lots to do with a mine. Some kinds of rock are much better than others, (lime porphyry is the best formation known to miners.)

When you get your shaft dug and show up ledge and walls then you tack up your notice stating the mining district and name your claim (I took one up in Oregon and called it the Illinois, but it was no good), and measure off to the best of your ability 1500 feet long by 600 feet wide that constitutes about twenty acres and stakes are so many feet so and so, and when you get it all staked out then you go to the county seat and get it recorded which will cost you a dollar that holds your claim for one

In Nevada mines are personal property. A vein of ore never stands perpendicular, it pitches to the North, East, South or West. Sometimes they lie in a blanket form and again they are in chimneys, and deposits no ledge at all. It is very easy to locate a claim, but the more difficult question is to find one that is worth locating. You go out in the mountains to hunt a mine you will soon learn why gold and silver are precious metals. There are lots of old forty-niners in the west but never have made their fortunes yet. Before I left Oregon and that was in ninety-nine, there was a forty-niner weeks he was taken out $1000 rock make reports to the Stock holders that is $1000. > Here follows a description of the mines, which is omitted on account of its length. He continues as fol-

> I will now give an estimate of the product and expenses in operating a fifty ton plant for one day: 50 tons produce 1500 oz silver at 60 cents per oz 50 ton of ore will produce 10 ton of lead worth at Salt Lake city $67. per ton 50 tons produce gold 50,

2 engineers, at $4. per day 4 men to handle ores and furnace $3, per day Hauling ten tons of bullion railroad, $6, per ton 60. Railroad freight to Salt Lake City, 10 ton at $6 per ton 60. 50.

Total Expenses $551. Net profit for one day $1064.

These estimates are made on the bases of our present railroad facilities which require 60 miles of wagon transportation when the railroad reaches Pioche or Bristol it will cut down our wagon transporation to such a degree on coke and bullion that our profits will increase very materially. In making my estimates I have been very conservative and tried to be under in place of over marks. I am sure our silver product will be above my estimate perhaps a hundred per cent or more as the Sheller mine has produced some very rich ore and no doubt will do so again Mention this prosposition to your friends, we feel sure you will appreciete these pages not so much for what we say and our manner of saying it but for the more practical reason that there is an open door through which you may become a share owner in one of the largest and richest mines that have ever been offered in this or any other state. We cannot advance our interest without advancing yours. We do not have to prospect we have what they are all looking for but as I said before no capital to work it and you might just as well get on the ground floor and go along with us to success. There is more easy quicker, surer money in this proposition than your farm lands and if you will go along with me you will be convinced. If you will stop, read, and consider what this little pamphlet will do for you, you can stay at home and put your mite to working and as soon as the working facilities are put up these mines in Lincoln county Nevada, will make every stock you own worth one hundred cents on the dollar. You would not get this opportunity if the owners had the necessary means to put up the machinery but as it is you have a chance to make money at our opportunity to invest your money that will ever bring you in such returns again? Do not say this is too good to be true.

You can buy or make arrangements for stock at our office in the First National Bank of Bushnell, Ill at ten cents per share. Any where you see these pamphlets it will be arranged with some bank in the city for you to buy stock, We are only going to sell two hundred thousand shares and when that is gone it is all gone. You will not have a chance to buy any more stock in Silver King Mining Co.
